Prime Time is a Not-for-Profit family service that is committed to helping individuals be the best they can be. Families are at the heart of our lives and we are called to lead our lives in light of the old adage “Charity begins at home”. “Charity” is another word for “Love”.

Our Mediators particularly wish to help fathers, to be a positive influence in the lives of their children and re-establish contact with their children where possible and safe. We are developing a programme to educate resident and non-resident parents on the impact that absent parents can have on the lives of children in inner city areas. We are also working on providing a Child Contact Centre for Contact handover only.

Please give us a call if you would like to get involved or speak with a Family Mediator.
